

Voters Will Decide Today Who's Who in Fickle Political World

ALL PARTIES AND PARTY MANAGERS APPEAR CONFIDENT OF VICTORY AWAITING NEWS OF VOTERS' CHOICE

Taft Men Declare President Will Receive 315 Electoral College Votes --Wilson Manager Claims Victory for Democrat by Aig Plurality--Dixon States Roosevelt Will "Sweep Country" by Tremendous Vote--Take Your Choice and Vote Early.

NEW YORK, NOV. 4.—The most vigorous presidential fight for recent years came to an end tonight, with the leading candidates for the nation's chief office continuing their personal appeal to voters almost to the last moments.

President Taft speaking from his train in Ohio on his trip to Cincinnati, Colonel Roosevelt addressing voters at various points close to Oyster Bay and Governor Wilson addressing meetings at Painesville and Patterson gave to the conclusion of the long campaign a touch of personal activity that emphasized the interest in tomorrow's balloting.

More than the presidency is at stake in the elections tomorrow. The Republican forces have concentrated their efforts in doubtful states to prevent an overturning of local organizations or a capture of the legislatures in states heretofore safely Republican. The Democrats have made an organized assault upon a number of states, to control the legislatures, so that the majority in the United States senate may be swung to the Democratic column. Against Republican predictions that the senate will remain Republican, Democratic national leaders today claimed enough states to give them the senate, and to greatly swell their majority in the house, which they captured in 1910. Few American campaigns have run through a longer period of heated controversy. The fight for the presidency to terminate the salient boxes tomorrow was under way early in February and has scarcely lagged since that time. Out of the eight men who were active candidates for presidential nominations early in the summer, three leading candidates, representing three parties whose relative strength is still a matter of conjecture, remain to solicit the voters' support tomorrow. The influence of women in the campaign probably will be greater than in any previous campaign. National headquarters for each party has had an organized bureau to appeal to women workers, presided over by women well known in public and social life.

Women Form Important Factor.
In the six western states where women will vote—Wyoming, Utah, Colorado, California, Idaho and Washington—their ballots will be an important factor in the results. In five other states—Arkansas, Michigan, Kansas, Oregon and Wisconsin—their votes will be an issue in the polls.

Fair weather is predicted for the majority of states. The uncertainty caused by the third party ticket, the more than ordinary urgent appeal of party managers to all voters to "go to the polls" and the local interest caused by fights for state offices and control of state machinery, indicated a record vote in most sections of the country and a popular presidential vote of huge proportions.

Sent Out Final Instructions.
Chicago, Nov. 4.—Final telegraphic instructions to state and county chairmen in all of the western states were sent out tonight from the various political headquarters in Chicago. Joseph E. Davies for the Democrats, David W. Mulvane for the Republicans, Medill McCormick for the Progressives, T. M. Barnes for the Socialists and Charles R. Jones for the Prohibitionists directed the last commands for party workers to get out tomorrow's vote and assure a full party poll in the various states.

All Confident of Success.
All of the party managers renewed their confident predictions of success, but all emphasize the necessity of keeping up the fight until the polls have closed tomorrow.

Joseph E. Davies sent out a warning to Democrats urging them not to be led astray by over-confidence. "I am convinced," said Mr. Davies, "that Woodrow Wilson will win the greatest political victory the United States has known in fifty years."

David W. Mulvane in estimating the Taft vote, declared that the president would get 315 electoral votes and Wilson 132 electoral votes. In addition Mulvane listed a total of 84 electoral votes as doubtful.

Medill McCormick asserted that a Progressive landslide had started and that Colonel Roosevelt would be elected by an overwhelming plurality. Chairman Jones of the Prohibition party said that the Prohibition cause had received thousands of recruits from the "silent vote" of the country.

The Socialists expected to double the Socialist poll of four years ago and several of the party leaders insisted the Socialist vote would be tripled.

The Fight in Illinois.
Chicago, Nov. 4.—The involving fight for the Chicago and Illinois vote ended tonight with scores of political meetings in every section of the state. Although each party tonight claimed a clean sweep for its state and national ticket, students of the state political situation declared they expected to see the national ticket of one party and the state ticket of another party win. Betting odds favor the Democratic national ticket and the Republican state ticket with the Progressive national ticket a close second to the Democratic ticket.

Roy O. West, Republican state chairman, issued a final statement in which he declared that President Taft and Governor Deneen would carry the state by a plurality of 125,000.

Arthur W. Charles, Democratic state chairman, announced that Woodrow Wilson and Edward F. Dunne, Democratic candidate for governor, would win by a tremendous majority. He also said that the Democrats would elect eighteen of the twenty-five congressmen and two congressmen-at-large to be elected. Chauncey Dewey, Progressive state chairman, predicted that Colonel Roosevelt would carry Illinois by a plurality of more than 150,000 and that Frank H. Funk, Progressive candidate for governor, would run ahead of Colonel Roosevelt.

Indications tonight pointed to a heavy Socialist vote in Cook county and in several of the larger cities of the state.

New Hampshire and New York Taft.
Chicago, Nov. 4.—Secretary of the Treasury Franklin MacVeagh came to Chicago today to be ready to vote tomorrow.

"The outlook for President Taft is very hopeful," he said. "I campaigned through New Hampshire and New York and found the people very optimistic as to President Taft's re-election. It is decided firmly that Mr. Taft will carry both those states. I am a conservative in the belief that Taft will win."

Large Vote Is Predicted.
Des Moines, Ia., Nov. 4.—An unusually large vote in the cities is predicted for tomorrow because of indications that the weather would be fair, while the rural districts are expected to show a correspondingly small vote.

Senator William Kenyon closed his campaign with a speech at Creston, George W. Clark, Republican candidate for governor, addressed home people at Adel, as did also J. L. Stevens, Progressive candidate, at Mason City. Closing political meetings were held at Sioux City, Ottumwa, Davenport and Des Moines.

Wilson Closes in New Jersey.
Newark, N. J., Nov. 4.—The campaign closed tonight with speeches in Patterson and Passaic by Governor Woodrow Wilson. Democrats all claim the state and their national tickets. Indications are that a record vote will be cast. The Progressives are confident of victory. The Democrats claim the state for Wilson by 50,000 and the Republican leaders, while giving no estimates, declare Taft will carry the state.

Conditions in Wisconsin.
Milwaukee, Wis., Nov. 4.—All party managers are ready for the casting of the ballots at tomorrow's elections.

Return on the votes for the presidential choice will be slow on account of separate ballots being used for this vote.

Woman suffragettes have been extremely busy on the close of the campaign in making appeals for the constitutional amendment passed by the last legislature permitting equal suffrage.

In all the large cities of Wisconsin the polls will open at 6 a. m. and close at 8 p. m., while in some of the rural sections the polls will close at 6 p. m.

May Be Surprises in Minnesota.
St. Paul, Minn., Nov. 4.—With the issues made up, representatives of the three major parties tonight hold to their previous claims of surprising totals in tomorrow's balloting.

H. T. Halbert, chairman of the state Progressive central committee places Colonel Roosevelt's plurality in the state at 50,000. Martin O'Brien, chairman of the state Democratic central committee, says Woodrow Wilson's plurality will be between 25,000 and 40,000. The Taft managers have issued no authoritative statement with reference to the poll of votes for the president in Minnesota. Fred H. Carpenter, president of the Hennepin county Taft club, however tonight issued a statement in which he expressed confidence in a big vote for Mr. Taft.

Michigan State Court Ruling.
Detroit, Mich., Nov. 4.—A recent state supreme court ruling, barring a candidate from a place on the ballot if he is enrolled under the name of another party, is one of the most discussed issues of the closing of the Michigan campaign. Several of the Progressive candidates who enrolled before the new party was formed, have neglected to change their enrollment. The ballots have been printed bearing their names, and if they are elected, it is expected their election will be contested in the courts. None of the party leaders would admit that his ticket faced defeat.

Little Public Interest Manifest.
Cincinnati, O., Nov. 4.—President Taft spent the last day before election in a leisurely trip across his home state addressing crowds in more than a dozen cities, and tonight reached his home city where tomorrow he will cast his ballot. The Democrats tonight ended their long campaign in the state with a final rally in Toledo, the Republicans and Progressives having finished their efforts Saturday night.

Leaders of each of the three parties are making claims of victory tonight. Governor Harmon returning here from Columbus to vote, expressed his conviction that Governor Wilson would carry the state and said he believed President Taft would run second. Both the Democrats and Republicans claim they will elect a majority of the twenty-two members of congress to be chosen. Progressive candidates for congress entered the field in only a few more than half the congressional districts.

Almost equal to the interest in the presidential election here is the contest for congress in the first district comprising the Cincinnati district between Nicholas Longworth, Republican and the Democratic candidate, Stanley Rowdie, member of the recent constitutional convention. M. F. Andrews is the candidate on the Progressive ticket.

In contrast to former elections on the night before election there was comparatively little public interest manifest.

Large Vote Is Expected.
Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 4.—Preparations for the election in Indiana have been completed and, according to the party managers here, provided the weather is at all propitious the largest vote ever cast in the state will be polled. The returns from the larger cities are expected to begin coming in early because in most of these counties, voting machines have been installed.

Governor Thomas R. Marshall, Democratic vice-presidential candidate, will receive the returns in the state capital.

Governor Thomas R. Marshall, cast his vote for the Democratic ticket early.

Kansas Unusually Uncertain.
Topeka, Kan., Nov. 4.—Unusual uncertainty was the most evident pre-election condition in Kansas tonight at the close of one of the most intense campaigns in years. The final statement of each chairman was a prediction of victory for his party but so many new factors have entered into the campaign that experienced politicians hesitate to make claims.

The betting favors the Democratic national ticket.

Johnson Closes Campaign.
Boston, Mass., Nov. 4.—Predictions of party success in Massachusetts were made tonight by each of the managers of the Democratic, Republican and Progressive parties. Only one national candidate, Gov. Hiram Johnson of California, Progressive nominee for vice-president was in the state during the closing hours of the campaign, he made his final speech at Springfield.

Odds on Wilson in Missouri.
St. Louis, Mo., Nov. 4.—D. C. McClung, chairman of the Democratic state committee, declared on the eve of the election that the Democratic national and state tickets would win by a plurality ranging from 100,000 to 150,000 and that fifteen of the sixteen congressmen to be chosen would be Democratic.

B. F. Beazell, chairman of the speakers' bureau of the Progressive state committee in a detailed prediction, gave Roosevelt 312,389; Wilson 290,588 and Taft 92,950, scattering 20,000.

The following statement was made by Polite Elvins, Republican state committee chairman.

"Any attempt to figure in this campaign would be mere guess work. Our reports show that the Republican ticket will receive the greater part of the 'silent vote' and if this is correct we will carry Missouri by a handsome majority."

Odds of twenty to one were offered here today that Wilson carries the state.

No Taft Electors in South Dakota.
Sioux Falls, S. D., Nov. 4.—On the eve of the election in South Dakota, the Wilson and Roosevelt managers claimed their party was sure to carry the state tomorrow. The fact that there are no Taft electors on the ticket adds no complications to the puzzling situation as some of the Taft leaders have been urging Republicans to vote for Wilson.

Think Wilson the Favorite.
Grand Forks, N. D., Nov. 4.—With W. D. Sweet of Fargo, Progressive candidate for governor, speaking in his home county, Cass, United States Senator McCumber, Republican campaigning in Richland county, and Governor Burke, Democrat at Devils Lake, North Dakota's campaign closed tonight. Neither party will admit defeat, but politicians declare that the fight between Wilson and Roosevelt will be close with Wilson the favorite.

National Headquarters Deserted.
New York, Nov. 4.—National headquarters of the three leading political parties were scenes of leave-takings and wholesale desertions today. Many of the officials of the Republican national committee had left New York this morning for their respective homes to vote Tuesday. The Progressive national committee gave up a number of rooms of its big suite in an up town hotel this morning and moved its effects into rooms where the work of distributing literature had been concluded.

Chairman William F. McCombs, Treasurer Rolla Wells and several other leading officers of the Democratic committee remained in New York today and will receive returns here tomorrow night.

Chairman McCombs will have a private suite of rooms at a hotel with a telephone wire connecting him with Princeton.

The location of this office for receiving the returns and passing them on to Governor Wilson will not be disclosed to the public.

Nebraska Work Hard.
Omaha, Neb., Nov. 4.—William Jennings Bryan carried the Democratic campaign right up to the dawn of election day not concluding his last speech, made in Lincoln tonight, until a late hour. Progressives put in a hard day in various cities. Their workers were particularly active in Omaha and kept open house tonight.

While the regular Republican organization has been less active the campaign managers continued to express their opinions in an optimistic manner. The Democrats confined their efforts today to preparations for getting out their full party vote. There was no inclination by any leaders to minimize the claims already made for the leading candidates.

To Prevent Illegal Voting.
New York, Nov. 4.—Activity among detective forces and political headquarters today to prevent fraud and disbar illegal voters from the polls tomorrow, lent excitement to the concluding day of the campaign.

TO REVISE EQUITABLE FEDERAL COURT RULES

WILL BE FIRST REVISION MADE IN THE LAST FIFTY YEARS

U. S. Supreme Court Will Prohibit the Granting of Preliminary Injunctions Without Notice and Restrict the Granting of Temporary Restraining Orders.

Washington, Nov. 4.—In promulgating today the first revision of the equitable rules of federal courts in the last fifty years, the supreme court of the United States prohibited the granting of preliminary injunctions without notice, and restricted the granting of temporary restraining orders. The court embodied in the new rule many of the points of the Clayton anti-injunction bill for which labor leaders have been fighting which has passed the house and waits in the senate.

Instead of temporary restraining orders being issued without notice upon presentation to a federal judge of general allegations that immediate and irreparable damage is about to be inflicted, the new rule requires that it must be shown by specific facts set forth in affidavits or otherwise that such damages will result.

When a temporary restraining order is issued, a hearing on the injunction must be given within ten days. Heretofore no time limit was fixed by the rules and often not by the courts. The court went still further and provided that those restrained may come into court within two days and be heard with expedition on a motion to dissolve the restraining order. The new rules do not require those procuring the restraining order to give a bond, or the judge to set forth in the order his reasons for granting it. These were provisions in the Clayton bill.

Chief Justice White did not refer to the anti-injunction rule in making the changes in the old rules but did emphasize the statement that the revision was designed to simplify procedure and remove delays and reduce cost. The antique form of pleading is abrogated in the new rules for the modern forms of "code" states; judges are required, with few exceptions to take testimony in court instead of appointing referees to do so; and appellate courts authorized more generally to dispose of suits instead of reversing on immaterial errors.

COMMITTEE AWFUL DEED.
Oswatimie, Kan., Nov. 4.—Mrs. C. W. Perdue, 35 years old, wife of a railroad conductor, and her six months old daughter were burned to death in a shed in the rear of the Purdue home today and a five year old son so badly burned that he died tonight. A note Mrs. Perdue had written to a neighbor indicated that Mrs. Perdue was responsible for the death of herself and two children. In the note she requested that the three bodies be buried in one grave and it is believed that the woman saturated the box with coal oil, climbed into it with the children and then applied a match to it. It is probable that a sudden fit of insanity prompted her act.

WILSON GOES HOME.
Princeton, Nov. 4.—Governor Wilson reached his home here at 11:45 o'clock tonight. He rode in a crowded coach and many people pressed forward to wish him success tomorrow. As he waited for his train at Newark he was greeted by Prof. Thomas J. Preston, whose engagement to Mrs. Grover Cleveland was recently announced. The governor congratulated Mr. Preston and asked him to sign his "master of arts degree" which he received from Princeton subsequent to Dr. Wilson's connection with the university. The governor promised to do so.

Governor Wilson will vote early tomorrow.

FORM NEW CONFERENCE.
Chicago, Nov. 4.—A movement is on foot, which will, if it materializes, result in a new conference of colleges and universities in the middle west.

Notre Dame, Marquette and Washburn have been named as charter members with the possible inclusion of the Michigan Agricultural college and Lawrence university. There will be six or eight institutions in the conference and it will enter upon its official existence in the fall of 1913.

COL. ROOSEVELT ASSAILS ATTORNEYS

REPLIES TO STATEMENT MADE IN REJOINER TO HIS SPEECH

Root, Milburn, Guthrie, and Marshall are Targets for Roosevelt Because They Criticized His Madison Square Garden Statements.

OYSTER BAY, NOV. 4.—Senator Elihu Root, John C. Milburn, William D. Guthrie and Louis Marshall four of the best known lawyers in New York were assailed tonight by Colonel Roosevelt as "counsel against the people of the United States," who he said, were "defending a perversion of the law, for which they themselves were responsible." Colonel Roosevelt's remarks were in reply to a statement made today by these four men in rejoinder to his speech in Madison Square Garden Friday night.

Colonel Roosevelt's speech was made in Oyster Bay tonight in the closing rally of the campaign.

"I want to relieve some nervous people who don't live in Oyster Bay of the belief that I will not vote tomorrow," he said by way of preface. "I see that some of the not always accurate papers of New York announce that I am not registered and won't vote. I am registered and I shall vote."

"Now I want to speak of certain gentlemen on the other side—Messrs. Root, Milburn, Guthrie and Marshall—who answered my Madison Square Garden speech this afternoon so that, I suppose, they thought I could not make any reply to their answer. There is always a presumption against any individual who waits until the afternoon before election to transverse the statements of an opponent."

Colonel Roosevelt said he had been informed that these four men in their present position of counsel against the people of the United States had attacked statements which he had made regarding decisions of the New York court of appeals as being contrary to the law and the fact. He took up one by one the cases which he had discussed and read from a number of books extracts to prove that he had stated the facts correctly. The colonel also said that these "four great corporation lawyers" had defended the decisions of the court of appeals in the Kneizley case involving an interpretation of the employers liability law.

A decision is reported today in the Law Journal in which the court referred to the Kneizley case and says that it is largely qualified if not overruled by a subsequent decision and then proceeds to render a decision flatly against it. The next time Mr. Root rushes to the defense of the court of appeals he had better find out where the court of appeals stands.

"These big lawyers, who are employed by the very corporations that are at fault, come to the front and assail our movement and say they are defending the court and that they are defending the law. Defending the law, they are defending a perversion. And now they are defending the courts for the perversion of justice for which they are themselves responsible; they, the counsel hired by these great corporations, they are the attorneys of the very privilege which we are seeking to cut out of our industrial life; they stand for precisely that perversion of justice, that substitute of legalism for justice, against which we protest."

The four attorneys toward whom Colonel Roosevelt directed these remarks united this afternoon in a statement asserting that the colonel had mis-stated the law and the fact in his criticism of the New York court of appeals in his Madison Square Garden speech. One by one the cases which Colonel Roosevelt cited were taken up, his criticisms of the court decisions analyzed and the mis-statements he was declared to have made pointed out. The colonel had made so many "inaccurate statements calculated to mislead voters" the attorneys explained in issuing their statement that they deemed it their duty to state "the true facts in regard to the decisions."

TURKS ARE FORCED TO A LAST STAND

May Reform Behind Line of Last Fortification Before Constantinople

PORTE UNANSWERED YET

Nothing Come so of Porte's Ap- peal to the Powers for Medi- ation--Will Probably Decline

BULGARS ARE NOT FOR PEACE

LONDON, NOV. 4.—The prospect that a considerable portion of the defeated Turkish army will be able to reform behind the lines of Tchataltja, the last fortifications before Constantinople is not altogether excluded, but whether the Turks will be able to maintain there any serious resistance to the Bulgarian advance is a question which permits of doubt.

In the struggle with the allies the Turks lost more than half their artillery. In fact the Servians alone claim to have captured no less than 300 guns. This will certainly militate against any prolonged stand at Tchataltja.

In a circular note to Turkish ambassadors abroad the Turkish government maintains that, although embarrassing, affairs are not desperate, and declares that when the allies had completed their mobilization Turkey had barely begun hers. The note insists that Turkey still is able to maintain prolonged warfare.

No Answer to Porte's Appeal.
Up to the present hour there is no sign that anything has come of the porte's appeal to the powers for mediation. No replies have been received at Constantinople and there is little doubt that when they are received they will embody a declaration to consider the idea of proposing an armistice. Apparently Bulgaria is in no mood to negotiate peace at the present time.

Although fighting still is proceeding on the Tchorlu-Seral line and correspondents are sending reports of Bulgarian and Turkish successes in that neighborhood according to which they draw inspiration from the official announcement from Constantinople that the Turks are withdrawing to the Tchataltja line of forts is not to be doubted and it is evident that this fighting is merely an extensive rear guard action to cover the movement of the Turks towards Constantinople.

May Need Intervention.
Constantinople, Nov. 4. 9 p. m.—None of the powers has yet replied to the porte's request for mediation. The belief is held here that King Ferdinand will not be sorry to accept European intervention as it is considered that after its tremendous sacrifice the Bulgarian army must be near exhaustion. Abdullah Pasha, commander of Turkish eastern army, still is at Tcherkeskent, and at noon today a Turkish detachment destroyed an important railway bridge at Tchorlu.

It now becomes clear that the deficient commissariat was largely responsible for the Turkish reverses. Turkish plans aimed at encircling the Bulgarian forces by an advance on the right wing. The Bulgarian general concentrated his efforts on attack against the Turkish center at Seral and the left wing along the railway. The Turkish right was meeting with much success but the commissariat broke down completely, owing partly to bad weather which made the roads difficult and prevented landing operations at the Turkish base Midia.

The difficulty in maintaining order is rising daily. A war office and a mob went to the war office and asked for weapons with which to attack the Christians and this was the reason why Kiamil Pasha asked the ambassadors to have warships at hand.

Greeks Reported Checked.

STOLE TO FURTHER AMBITION.
San Francisco, Nov. 4.—Ambition to become the moving picture magazine of the Pacific coast is alleged to have led Wallace Pollard, until three weeks ago cashier of the San Francisco office of the International Harvester company, to embezzle $84,000 of his employers' money. Judge K. M. Greene, attorney for the harvester company, caused Pollard's arrest today on the charge he had embezzled $1,500 on Oct. 3.—Judge Greene said Pollard admitted this speculation and that admissions of other thefts brought the total up to $85,000. According to Judge Greene, Pollard invested money in a number of moving picture houses and in a San Francisco saloon which was elaborately fitted up.

LAD INJURED BY PLAYMATES.
Joliet, Ill., Nov. 4.—Inspired by wild west moving pictures ten boys giving a cowboy play here today so seriously injured Glenn Brown, a 9 year old child, that he is in a critical condition. The boys hung the Brown boy to a tree by a rope passed under his hands while giving a mock lynching, and left him there for half an hour while they careered around him and went through a pantomime of firing bullets into his body. The boy pleaded to be let down. When he was brought to the ground the mock cowboys dragged him over the ground at the end of the rope for several minutes and then left him to make his way home. Physicians say the Brown boy may be permanently disabled.

DEMOCRATS HELD THEIR FINAL RALLY

Congressman Rainey the Stellar Attraction at Court House Meeting.

Under the auspices of the third ward Democratic club a mass meeting was held Monday night at the court house and the audience was such that the court room was filled to overflowing. The principal address was made by Congressman Henry T. Rainey with certain raisers by Judge Owen P. Thompson and M. F. Dunlap. M. H. Carroll presided and introduced the several speakers.

Congressman Rainey made a very excellent address from a Democratic standpoint. He was very dignified in his style of oratory and in the way he handled his subject and his remarks were interlarded with frequent sallies of wit.

He reviewed at length the record of the Democratic congress and found much in it worthy of praise and commendation and still more to hope for and expect. He said the Republican party had done much that was useful in its time. He regarded the Progressive party as too greatly dependent upon one man to be a permanent organization and affirmed that the real hope of the people is in Democracy.

In a very quiet way and very deftly Congressman Rainey picked Colonel Roosevelt's record and promises to pieces and made some of the colonel's recorded brilliant achievements appear in other light. He affirmed that Colonel Roosevelt should have carried into effect some of the promises he now holds out during the seven years he was president. The speaker also criticized President Taft and referred to him as a straw man.

Los Angeles, Nov. 4.—Mrs. Pansy Hastings Lesh who confessed to the murder of two women in Missouri, more than six years ago, may never be punished by law, according to local authorities. Representatives of the district attorney's office express the opinion that it would be impossible to convict her in spite of her confession and that no judge would accept her plea of guilty without corroborative evidence.

EDUCATION BOARDHOLDS MEETING

Transacts Only Routine Business at Monday Night Session—Lively Discussion Over Matter of Taking Action on Successor to Mr. Stoops.

At the regular meeting of the board of education Monday night the members engaged in a rather lively discussion over the matter of appointing a successor to Mr. Stoops as principal of the high school, and after a conference they decided to defer action until Thursday night when a special session will be held.

Aside from that the board of education met and the appointment of Miss Huss as successor to Miss Schofield a teacher of the seventh grade in the Jefferson school, only routine business was transacted.

The board was called to order by President Davis at 8:28 o'clock with all members present excepting Member Badger, who arrived shortly after 9 o'clock.

Mr. Stoops' resignation as principal of the high school, which is to take effect November 15, was accepted and the clerk read an application from William Adolph Gore of Cairo, for the position made vacant by the resignation of Mr. Stoops.

Another application from Miss Olive D. Huss, for the position of teacher in the seventh grade of the Jefferson school was read. The clerk also read a communication from President Edmund J. James of the University of Illinois relative to the high school conference which is to be held at the university the latter part of this month, and this together with the applications was received and placed on file.

All properly approved claims were ordered paid and it was the sense of the board that the members of the finance committee visit the different banks and make arrangements for the handling of the anticipation warrants issued by the board.

Under the head of officers' reports Mr. Furr reported the following:

Enroll-ment. Pet of Tardiment. Att'ce ness.

High school ... 278 97 44
Eighth grade ... 151 98 7
Jefferson ... 306 94 75
Lafayette ... 391 93 66
Franklin ... 273 97 12
Morton ... 113 97 12
Washington ... 383 97 29

Treasurer Farrell reported a balance of $6,903.98 in the general fund and a balance of $38,999.20 in the building and repair fund. These reports were received and placed on file.

Superintendent Furr presented a measuring scale of writing which has been sent out by the Russell Sage Foundation, which is making an effort to standardize writing. He said that he had been asked to give a weeks institute work at Sunbury, Pa., the week beginning December 16 and also asked about the matter of holidays. On motion of Member Rogerson the Christmas holidays were set for the two weeks from December 20 to January 5, and the Thanksgiving holidays from Wednesday afternoon until Monday morning.

The clerk read the resignation of Miss Amelia Schofield as teacher in the Jefferson school and Miss Huss was appointed to fill the vacancy.

Member Clampt called attention to the vacancy in the principalship of the high school and recommended that the board take the matter under advisement before the vacancy is filled. Member Rogerson stated that he saw no reason in delaying the appointment and made a motion that Mr. Gore be appointed at a salary of $1,700 per year. This motion was seconded by Member Bavington and Member Clampt again protested against the action, declaring that he did not see why there was such a rush. He said that he understood that Mr. Gore was in the city looking up the position before the resignation was given in. He said that he had no special objection against Mr. Gore himself but that he was of the opinion that the members should investigate the matter before such a responsible position was filled.

Member Badger said that he felt that the committee should have time to talk over the matter and he suggested a recess of a few minutes for the conference. Mr. Rogerson stated that he was sure Mr. Gore and his credentials were all right. After considerable discussion an attempt was made at a roll call on motion but Mr. Badger said that he was not ready to vote on the proposition and asked to be excused. The members then went into conference in the mayor's office and after about thirty minutes discussion they returned, when Mr. Rogerson withdrew his motion and moved that the board adjourn until Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock, which was done.

CAPTURE AUTO BANDIT.

Chicago, Nov. 4.—The survivor of the two automobile bandits who attempted to hold up and rob Rutherford B. Cooke, assistant secretary of the Chicago National league baseball club was arrested today after having cowered to detectives. Edward Meyers, 25 years old was killed early Sunday morning by Cooke who shot him dead when Meyers leaped from an automobile and ordered Cooke to give up his valuables. The man arrested today, Clifford Fall, 29 years old, remained in the car and escaped though Cooke fired several shots at him.

Exonerated for Killing.

Rutherford B. Cooke was not only exonerated from all blame for killing Edward Meyers when the latter and a companion attempted to hold him up Sunday morning, but was commended for his prompt action in defending himself by a coroner's jury today. Evidence was introduced at the inquest to show that Meyers was on parole at the time of his death.

Fall admitted that he and Meyers had stolen an automobile from in front of a theater Saturday and that they had held up and robbed Harry Reybold near his home about twenty minutes before Meyers was shot.

VOTERS WILL DECIDE TODAY

in New York city. The city and state were the theater for a lively end of the three-cornered gubernatorial fight today, the three candidates and their respective speaking staffs touring the city and outlying districts.

Claim Sulzer's Victory.
The Democratic state headquarters and Tammany hall confidently claimed victory tonight for representative William Sulzer, Democratic candidate for governor. William Barnes, Jr., chairman of the Republican state committee, declared the Republican ticket headed by Job E. Hedges would win by 40,000 majority and the Progressive leaders declared there would be a landslide in the state for Roosevelt and the Progressive state ticket led by Oscar S. Straus.

The polls will open at 6 o'clock and close at 5 o'clock. Earliest returns are expected from Buffalo and Erie county and other upstate sections where voting machines are used and the trend of these reports is expected to give an indication of the results in the state.

Will Enforce Laws.
The Progressive national headquarters issued a statement today notifying voters that police could be called upon by any citizen to enforce the laws at the polling places.

In support of this contention George W. Perkins made public a letter from Police Commissioner Wallace, stating that the authority of them with their positions at stake, irregularities at the voting booths.

J. D. Britt, president of the board of elections, addressed a letter today to District Attorney Whitman calling upon him to take legal action against William J. Burns, the detective commissioned by Colonel Roosevelt to ferret out election frauds for the publication of an advertisement alleged to be "false and misleading."

The advertisement was a $5,000 reward for information leading to the conviction of persons who attempted to vote illegally. A list of places from which illegal registrations was suspected was given and it was stated that six months residence in the county was necessary. The board of election cites that the requires are for but four months residence; hence the charge that the advertisement is "false and misleading."

At Burns' office it was said if any mis-statement had been made it had been made unwittingly.

Expect Big Vote in Pennsylvania.
Philadelphia, Nov. 4.—All is in readiness for the opening of the polls at 7 a. m., tomorrow throughout the state. Fine weather is promised by the weather bureau and party managers expect nearly a million and a quarter votes will be cast before the ballot boxes are closed at 7 o'clock in the evening.

The campaign continued up until the last moment. Democrats, Progressives and Republicans holding noon-day and evening meetings in every section. All three parties reiterated their claims to victory.

Still Battling "For the Lord."
Oyster Bay, Nov. 4.—As he began his campaign in Chicago last June, so Colonel Roosevelt with the same words, brought the campaign to a close tonight.

"We stand at Amaraggon and we battle for the Lord," he said to his old friends and neighbors of Oyster Bay, who gathered in the village play house for the final rally before election.

Early in the day Colonel Roosevelt escaped injuries in another of the series of mishaps which have befallen him during his campaign when a platform on which he was seated at Mineola gave way. With the crackling of timber, and the cries of frightened women and children, the hundred persons on the platform were dropped two feet until the center of the platform touched the ground. The only damage to Colonel Roosevelt consisted on being splashed with the contents of a pitcher of water. No one was injured.

Awaits Election's Result.
Washington, Nov. 4.—Temporarily a rank outsider in the field of politics, the national capital tonight is awaiting the election with quiet interest. From the president down, practically everybody with a voting residence has gone home to be at the polls tomorrow. Only a few high government officials are left in the city and thousands of minor officials and employees are missing from their offices today. Secretary of the Interior Fisher, who has no vote in this year because he was too late to register when he returned from Hawaii, is the only cabinet officer here. He will be the acting president tomorrow.

Real Washingtonians have no votes. However, there are many who call the capital home and therefore are without the right to cast a ballot, who are vitally interested in the outcome of tomorrow's contest as anyone who will vote. Hundreds of irregularities at the voting booths, have a very direct personal interest.

Taft Welcomed in Ohio.
Cincinnati, O., Nov. 4.—President Taft arrived in Cincinnati shortly before 8 o'clock tonight after a 12-hour ride across Ohio, during which he appeared on the rear platform of his private car to speak to state crowds more than a dozen times. He was driven immediately to the home of his brother, C. P. Taft, where he will stop until Wednesday afternoon.

One of the largest crowds of the day greeted him at the station here and to the blare of a brass band, the cheers of his fellow citizens and in a glow of red fire he was driven to his brother's home. Tomorrow the president expects to play golf on the links of the Cincinnati Country club, cast his ballot and then watch the returns come in.

Although he spoke during the day to thousands of Ohioans, the president refrained from talking politics. He had many a word to say about prosperity. He remembered the proposed farmer's banks and the duty of every citizen to exercise his suffrage tomorrow, but he avoided any personal plea and asked the support of no one. He came nearest to politics at Columbus where a good crowd was waiting at the station to catch a glimpse of Ohio's most distinguished citizen. As the president started to speak the engineer in a nearby locomotive blew his whistle. That must be a "Bull Moose whistle," shouted a bystander.

"I think it is," the president said with a smile. "It makes enough noise."

A moment later the president started his speech.

"I don't intend to ask you for your votes," he said. "You don't have to," yelled some one in the crowd. "We're all for you here."

"Well," continued the president, "if there are enough of you, we will win."

MRS. LINDLOFF GETS 25 YEARS.

Chicago, Nov. 4.—Mrs. Louisa Lindloff, spiritualist and crystal gazer, was found guilty of murder by a jury in Judge Windes' court tonight and her punishment fixed at 25 years in the penitentiary. She was charged with the poisoning her 15-year-old son, Arthur.

When the verdict was read Mrs. Lindloff laughed hysterically, cast a sneering glance at the jury and declared her innocence.

Arguments on a motion for a new trial will be heard November 15th.

The death, out of which grew the police investigation was the death of her son Arthur, 15 years, which occurred June 13th last. Mrs. Lindloff was arrested June 14th on suspicion of having poisoned two husband's and her three children. The bodies of William Lindloff, one of her husbands and Alma Lindloff a daughter, were exhumed, and arsenic found in the internal organs of both. June 29th, came a despatch from Milwaukee to the effect that arsenic had been found in the body of Julius Graunke, former husband of Mrs. Lindloff.

Police investigation proved that Arthur Lindloff's life had been insured, and a motive for the alleged killing was believed to have been established.

A JACKSONVILLE YOUNG MAN HONORED

The following taken from the Boston Congregationalist pertains to one of the fine young men who have gone from our midst to do honor to their parents, home and college:

"No finer man has gone forth of late from our Congregational churches into the foreign mission field than Rev. Melvin T. Kennedy who, with his wife and baby boy, sailed Sept. 28 from Philadelphia by the steamship Havelford for Liverpool en route for India. He goes as student's secretary of the international committee of the American branch of the Y. M. C. A. It is a rather ponderous tale for a man so simple-minded and modest; yet his talent as a scholar and service as a Christian worker will do credit to the title. Mr. Kennedy is a western man, graduated from Illinois college in 1904. After a few years spent in active work, he entered Union Theological Seminary, where he was graduated with distinction in 1911 and took his master's degree in Sanskrit in 1912.

"During four years he has been the pastor's assistant, in charge especially of the Sunday school work in South Congregational church, Brooklyn. Here all who came to know him recognized his rare qualities both of mind and spirit—a nature full of spiritual vitality, of intellectual freshness and justness and a personality of peculiar winsomeness and charm. He will represent the Christian comradeship of our American churches in what cannot fail to be, if his health is spared, a most significant and successful service in India. His address will be 86 College street, Calcutta.

THE MOVEMENT FOR BETTER ROADS

Construction Dealers Have Made Great Advances — Bad Roads Mean Millions of Loss.

At the meeting of the American Road Congress, held in Atlantic City in October of this year, there was begun what is to be a gigantic movement in behalf of better highways all over the country. The states of the middle west are to play an important part in the development of the comprehensive scheme which has been decided upon.

It was shown by figures from experts that in the matter of wagon road transportation, the tax payers of the United States are annually losing many millions of dollars because of unimproved thoroughfares. There is no longer any question in the minds of an observant citizen that a good road makes for a cheaper cost of living and the upbuilding of the community through which it passes, in every way.

Road construction has reached a degree of perfection whereby any highway built in the proper way, becomes almost lastingly durable. One of the illustrations given was that of a mile of brick pavement, part city and part rural, in the town of Sandusky, Ohio. This was laid eighteen years ago, and over it during all of the succeeding time there has daily passed much traffic, a portion of which was in vehicles of the heaviest kind. Yet today the road is perfectly smooth from end to end and shows none of the ravages of time. The reason for this, rests in the fact that it was put down at the beginning under the care of a wise and painstaking engineer, who saw that every detail was carefully looked after. This pavement will undoubtedly be as good at the end of another eighteen years as it is today, without a dollar of expense for its maintenance.

As an example of what can be done with stone, when laid in the proper way, the southwest corner of the public square in Cleveland, Ohio, stands out conspicuously. This was paved in 1901 and the pavement represents an especial solicitude on the part of the engineer and contractor. The eleven years of service to which it has been subjected since leave it in no less a perfect condition than at the beginning.

These two instances are but illustrative of what has happened in various parts of the country. They form a most powerful argument in favor of wagon road improvement constructed along modern and scientific lines.

But in getting away from roads of such a high standard of excellence, and going over the brick or stone road which has been improperly laid, one realizes that these, though a vast improvement over the old dirt road which too frequently is forced to bear excessive traffic, do not in any wise do away with the unanswerable argument in favor of roads of the best constructed and highest type.

The only real drawback to the adoption of a system of improved roads in all of the states, arises through a lack of knowledge of what such a system really means and the great benefit which would come to the public. To this should be coupled the inauguration of an educational plan by which the tax payers may familiarize themselves with the proper manner in which roads ought to be built. In a brick pavement for instance, the material from top to bottom should be perfectly bonded with a foundation of two inch sand cushion thoroughly compressed. The filler of cement should be applied in a way which will provide that the ends and sides of the brick are imbedded in it. Out of this will come a solid mass which makes the road endurable for many generations and does away with the cost of maintenance.

It is also true that stone roads, when put down as they ought to be take to themselves a lease of long life and grow better through the lapse of years.

The large universities and colleges of the country are taking up the matter of road building as a part of their technical course, and through them much good is to be done in the way of an education to the public mind.

So insistent has been the demand for better roads become that congress at its last session enacted a law appropriating $500,000.00 for the building of sample roads over the routes covered by the rural free delivery service of the country. This money is to be used not alone in improving the condition of roads, but to ascertain the increase in the territory which can be served; the increase in the number of delivery days each year; the saving to the government in the operation of the rural delivery service; and also the best kind of material to be used in highway construction.

TO AILING WOMEN.

A Little Sound Advice Will Help Many a Sufferer in Jacksonville.

No woman should consider herself healthy and well if the kidneys are weak. Poisons that pass off in the secretions when the kidneys are well, are retained in the body when the kidneys are disordered. If the kidneys and bladder become inflamed and swollen worse troubles may quickly follow. This is often the cause of bearing-down pains, lameness, backache, etc. Urine poisoning is also frequent cause of headaches, dizzy spells, languor, nervousness and rheumatic pains.

When suffering so, try Doan's Kidney Pills, a remedy that has proven effective in thousands of such cases. Let a Jacksonville woman tell of her experience.

Mrs. Eva Martin, 902 Hackett avenue, Jacksonville, Ill., says: "I have taken Doan's Kidney Pills for several years and I know them to be a good, reliable remedy. 'When I have a pain in my back and my kidneys do not act regularly, I get Doan's Kidney Pills at Armstrong's Drug Store. They bring me great relief and I have no hesitation in saying so.'"

BIG THEFT CASE TO COME TO TRIAL

George W. Fitzgerald, Former Teller In U. S. Sub-Treasury, Will Come Before Court.

Chicago, Nov. 4.—After a lapse of five years since the mysterious disappearance of $173,000 from the Chicago sub-treasury, George W. Fitzgerald, former teller, who was indicted in 1910 and charged with the embezzlement of that sum, is to appear before Judge Carpenter, of the United States court in this city, this week to be tried for the alleged theft. Unusual interest is manifested in the impending trial which, it is hoped, will definitely clear up the mystery surrounding this case which for years completely puzzled the government authorities and the shrewdest among the secret service detectives.

It was in the summer of 1907 that the officials of the Chicago United States sub-treasury were startled by the information that $173,000 in bills of various denominations had mysteriously disappeared from the case of the teller, George W. Fitzgerald. Fitzgerald himself, who had been in the employ of the sub-treasury for seven years, gave the first intimation of the loss of the large sum. On a Wednesday afternoon he informed the cashier, F. C. Russell, that he was short $173,000. He explained that the sum, which was missing, corresponded with the total amount of a package of bills which had been retained in the teller's custody the night before.

An examination of Fitzgerald's book showed that the shortage was not a matter of bookkeeping, but of actual loss. Inquiry at Washington showed that the money had not been shipped to the federal treasury by mistake. Thomas L. Porter, chief of the United States secret service in Chicago, began a careful investigation of the case and ascertained that three previous thefts had taken place, it is alleged, in Fitzgerald's case, prior to that time. These losses were, respectively, $500, $600 and $900. Notwithstanding this fact, Fitzgerald enjoyed the full confidence of his superiors and no suspicion was attached to him. He handled about $1,000,000 each day and was considered a thoroughly efficient and reliable employee. It was his custom each night to lock the money under his charge in his own private steel box.

When questioned, Fitzgerald laid suspicion upon a party of workmen who had been employed about the sub-treasury the day before the discovery of the shortage. The money, Fitzgerald stated, lay in stacks upon his desk in a dark corner of the cage and might easily have been reached from under the grating. He also said that at least a dozen men had access to the safe. Although at that time, considered above suspicion, Fitzgerald was relieved from duty, but not arrested. The officers of the secret service began a thorough investigation of the private life of every one of the employees of the sub-treasury, among them Fitzgerald's. His manner of life, it was found, was simple and unostentatious and he was popular among his companions. Fitzgerald asserted his innocence with an air of injured dignity which ultimately was effective in diverting suspicion to other quarters.

The case was so puzzling that, after a consultation with Secretary Shaw of the treasury and President Roosevelt, John L. Wilkie, chief of the United States secret service, took personal charge of the investigation. Fitzgerald and several other persons were persistently shadowed, but for several years, absolutely no evidence could be found which would have warranted an arrest. However, no reward was offered, as this was considered useless under the circumstances. Fitzgerald, having lost his position in the sub-treasury, tried to earn a living by going into the real estate business and was carefully watched. One day, in making a payment, he offered a $1,000 bill and on the strength of this and other circumstantial evidence he was arrested on suspicion, but quickly discharged again without having been formally charged with the theft.

The secret service officials continued to watch every movement of Fitzgerald and upon the strength of the circumstantial evidence accumulated in the course of several years, a secret indictment was found against him in 1910. The indictment formally charged Fitzgerald with the embezzlement of $173,000 and he was arrested, but the trial was delayed for various reasons until it was set for this week. It is believed that both sides are fully prepared to bring the case to trial and it is believed that Fitzgerald will make a determined fight, assisted by some of the best legal talent in the city.

A TRIP IN ASIA MINOR.

Scenes Along the Route From Constantinople to Antioch.

The modern traveler in visiting Antioch of Pisidia will be likely to start from Constantinople. He will take the steam ferry at the bustling Galata bridge, the most famous and the most crowded bridge perhaps in the world. He will land at Haidar Pasha after a half hour's sail, where he will take a very comfortable train on the Anatolian railway, which is built and equipped in first-class German style.

For fifty miles the road winds beside the beautiful sea of Marmora, affording charming glimpses of mountain and ocean, of peaceful bay and bold surf washed headlands. At Ismid the road begins to rise and great granite mountains, snow covered through much of the year, come into view.

Through stern, rocky, barren defiles the railroad winds its way, occasionally skirting a small village of adobe houses surrounded by vineyards and by groves of olives and amberberries. The silk worm is a chief source of the little wealth of this country, and the thousand acres of mulberry trees for which it is famous.

We are now indeed in the land of the classics. This is the very route that Cyrus the Younger followed with his great army, 400 years before Christ, in the expedition of which Xenophon tells us.

At the town of Chal, where we arrive at noon on the second day, the army of Cyrus met and halted for five days, demanding an increase of pay. Thus we see that strikes and quarrels over wages are not altogether things of modern invention. Near here, too, was fought a great battle a hundred years later, when Seleucus I., the founder of Antioch and the mighty ruler of all this region, defeated Antigonus, the one-eyed general of Cappa docta.—Christian Herald.

BIG THINGS OF OURS.

Texas, For Instance, and Counties Larger Than Some States.

"Is the United States as large as France?" a young Parisian once asked an American. "Sir," replied the proud Texan, "my own state alone is bigger than your whole republic."

An interesting method of demonstrating the size of the Lone Star State is to spread out a map of our country and stretch a string across Texas the longest way. Then, placing one end of the string at Chicago, it will be found that the other end will extend into either the Atlantic ocean or the gulf of Mexico.

The biggest counties in the United States are Cluster, in Montana, and San Bernardino, in California. Both have a little more than 20,000 square miles. Inside the boundaries of either of these counties might be placed the states of Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Delaware and New Jersey. Contrast these with Bristol county, Rhode Island, the smallest of all—twenty-five square miles—and one gets a good idea of the geographical differences in this broad land.

New York county shows the largest population of any county in the Union.

An interesting geographical fact meets one at a point about fifty miles from Durango, Colo. There, by stepping a few feet in either direction, one can walk in four different commonwealths in as many seconds. These are Colorado, Utah, New Mexico and Arizona.

Within 100 miles of one another, California offers the highest and the lowest elevations in this country—Mount Whitney, with its 14,490 feet, and Death valley, with its 450 feet below the sea level.—New York Sun.

Naming the Kangaroo.

The kangaroo came by his name rather strangely. When first Australia was discovered a sailor pointed to a kangaroo and asked a native what they called that animal. The poor black man having never met an Englishman before, had no idea what the sailor was talking about and replied in his own language, "Kangaroo"—that is, "I do not understand." The sailor foolishly supposed this was the name of the animal in the Australian tongue, and ever since we have called the animal kangaroo, "I do not understand."

In Perfect Health.

"I'm a very nervous person," said the applicant for room and board to the burly landlord of the health resort hotel. "I don't want to associate with other nervous people."

"You can associate with me," laughed the landlord. "There's nothing the matter with my nerve." And he sent the prospective guest to a 7 by 9 bed room that was only $10 a week.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

POINTS ON SCHOOL LAW.

Manual Training.

Public schools are established for instruction in the branches of education required in the qualifications of teachers, and in such other studies, including manual training, as the directors or the voters of the district at the annual election, may prescribe.

A manual training department may be established by any high school district without a referendum. Section 97 of the general school law should not be construed as a limitation of the powers of boards of education, but rather as an enabling act by which the legal voters may establish a manual training department by means of a referendum when the school board refuses or neglects to establish such department on its own motion.

New York's magnificent new state education building is now completed, and was dedicated October 15. It is considered one of the finest structures in the world devoted to educational administration. It is surrounded by what is said to be the longest colonnade in existence. The building cost $3,500,000. Prominent educators of this country and abroad were invited to be present at the dedication ceremonies.

CITY COUNCIL IN BRIEF SESSION.

Officers Reports Were Received at Monday's Meeting.

The Monday morning session of the city council was brief indeed. Mayor Davis and all the commissioners were present when Mr. Pyatt read the roll call. Minutes were read and approved and approved bills were ordered paid when funds are available.

Commissioner Engel reported that with the health warden he had investigated the alley back of stores on the square between Sandy and Main streets and did not find it unsanitary. He said, however, that it needed cleaning up. Some discussion followed as to the ownership of this alley and also the one in the rear of business houses on the south side of Main street. Mayor Davis said he would look this matter up.

Commissioner Newman asked about the Court street pavement and was informed that there had been delay in the receipt of materials, and that paving activity has caused delay in a number of other cities.

Commissioner Newman asked about the newspaper report that the Prairie street paving ordinance proceedings had been dismissed in the county court. Mayor Davis said that if the proceedings had been dismissed that it was without his authority or that of the council and that he had told the city attorney that such a course was not wished.

He said, however, that it was his understanding that the city had not taken such action, but that the court had simply granted the petition of certain property owners and stopped the proceedings on the ground that the newspaper notice of 15 days had not been given.

Reports of officers were received and placed on file.

Officers Reports.
R. L. Pyatt, clerk, for Diamond Grove cemetery reported collections of $241.95; collections from Jacksonville cemetery $122.90. Through city clerks office $203.10.

F. E. Farrell, treasurer, reported for the general fund balance Oct. 31, $3,078.09.

Geo. P. Davis, chief of police reported thirty-five arrests: males 27; females 8; amount collected $352.80. The arrests were as follows: Assault and battery 2; disorderly conduct 17; keepers disorderly house 3; drunk 12; violating speed ordinance 2; assault 1.

W. E. Thompson, justice of the peace reported fines collected $255.70; city costs $35.70; justice of peace costs $61.40.

W. H. Cobb, water superintendent reported total collections $2,774.10; water rent collected $2,721.35; meters sold, junk sold $22.75.

Howard Wannamaker, sexton of Jacksonville cemetery reported six graves made in October.

J. F. Owen, sexton of Diamond Grove cemetery reported nine graves made in October.

Miss Emma Weller, city matron, made the following report: To the Honorable Mayor and City Commissioners:

I report the following cases reported to me for the month of October: A family of four motherless children ranging in ages from one year to fifteen were reported as being left alone by the father and neglected. Case was investigated and application made to place them in a state home.

One report of a girl who disappeared from her home and could not be found. The girl was located and placed in a good home, but on account of illness afterwards sent to a hospital under the tag day fund. Upon recovery the girl returned to her home.

Complaint made of a colored boy who is incorrigible. Investigation proved that because his parents resided in another state he was not eligible to our state school for boys. Complaint was made of a mother who was not supporting her child which she left here in the city with the promise to pay its keep. A letter to her has received no reply as yet.

A complaint was made of six girls who were keeping bad company and disturbing the peace of neighbors. Case was investigated and further action will be taken later.

One young woman was reported as without money, stranded in our city, and unable to proceed to her home in Kentucky. Investigation proved that she had friends. A telegram found them, money was telegraphed back and the girl was sent to her home.

One woman was reported as working out every day and leaving her three young children at home to care for themselves.

A Night of Terror.
Few nights are more terrible than that of a mother looking on her child choking and gasping for breath during an attack of croup, and nothing in the house to relieve it. STATE NEWS.

Horse Hospitals.—Peoria will soon be provided with three veterinary hospitals. Two are already receiving sick and wounded animals. A permit was granted for the erection of a third.

Strange Combination.—Down in the most southern part of Illinois recently a girl by the name of Whitehead was married to a man whose hair is so red that he has been the butt of the village jokers for years. The newspaper which tells of the event says that by peculiar coincidence while the wedding was taking place the choir sang, "What Shall the Harvest Be."

Many Wildcats.—The Jungles in Henderson county, across the river from Burlington, are said to be over-run with hundreds of wild cats. Many Burlington people when they have an undesirable tabby, cross the river and place the cat on Illinois soil. The cats multiply rapidly and soon become very wild. One river man who has a cabin boat on the Illinois side of the river estimates that there are at least a thousand cats in the jungles near his home.

Fight Over Body.—Following a quarrel between two undertakers over the possession of Mrs. Helen Westland's body, one embalmer broke down the morgue door at Passavant hospital of Chicago and seized the "prize."

Accepts Pulpit in Rockford.—Rev. John Gordon, a minister's son who "preached his way through college" and into the pulpit of the Ravenswood Congregational church, has resigned his charge to become pastor of the Second Congregational church in Rockford, Ill., the largest and wealthiest church in that city.

Although offered by the Ravenswood church the same salary that he will receive in Rockford, Mr. Gordon decided to accept the Rockford pastorate. A new parsonage has been purchased for him by the Rockford congregation.

Mr. Gordon was reared near Grand Rapids, Mich. The hardships of the average minister's family of small means in no way daunted his ambition to enter his father's profession. He was ordained to the ministry June 1, 1900. He held a pastorate at Grand Rapids before coming to Chicago.

Deaf Mutes Marry.—Announcement is made of the marriage of Harry M. Long of Rockford and Miss Eva V. Eisenhart of Rockford, Ill. Both are deaf mutes and appraised no one of their plans, the fact becoming known to their friends only after the license for their marriage was issued in Chicago.

Replaces Pullman Cars With Its Own.—Effective with train No. 3 from Dubuque, the Pullman parlor cars which have been operating on these trains will be replaced with Illinois Central steel observation parlor cars. The new cars are handsomely finished and contain forty-one seats each.

Farms Three Prisoners to a Contractor.—There is still a scarcity of laborers in Freeport and the police department found three prisoners to a contractor, who has given the department an order on the wages of the men. The money derived from this source will be used towards the payment of the fines imposed on the men so farmed.

"EVERY LITTLE OLIVE TABLET HAS A MOVEMENT ALL ITS OWN."

Your doctor will tell you ninety per cent of all sickness comes from inactive bowels and liver. Dr. Edwards, a well-known physician in Chicago, selected a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil, to act on the liver and bowels, which he gave to his patients for years.

Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel, are gentle in their action, yet always effective. They bring about that exuberance of spirit, that natural buoyancy which should be enjoyed by everyone, by toning up the liver and clearing the system of harmful impurities.

LIVE STOCK AT HOME

GRAIN MARKET MAKERS.
In talking with Professor Hanziker, chief of the department of dairy husbandry at Purdue, the subject of Live Stock on the Farm, as profitable market makers for the farm grain products, the professor gave the following interesting table on possible corn consumption by dairy cattle alone in Indiana.

He said: "I have not the necessary statistics within reach to estimate what portion of the corn crop of our state is consumed by dairy cattle or that by beef cattle, but take for instance, as an estimate, according to the United States census report for 1910, the corn crop in Indiana averaged 39.3 bushels per acre. It is estimated that with this yield, that the acre will produce about ten tons of corn silage. The average cow eats during the year (about eight months) six tons of corn silage, containing about 23 and one-half bushels of corn. The average cow possibly receives four pounds of corn meal daily eight months of the year, amounting to 14 bushels of corn. Thus the total corn consumed per cow in the state would average 37½ bushels; as we have 666,000 dairy cows in Indiana, the dairy consumption would amount to about 24,975,000 bushels annually.

They Make You Feel Good.

LAST RITES HELD FOR JOHN CLEARY

Services at Catholic Church Monday Morning Largely Attended—Cousin of Deceased in Charge of Funeral.

Impressive funeral services for John Cleary were held Monday morning at 9 o'clock at the Church of Our Savior in the presence of a large gathering of relatives and friends. A cousin of the deceased, Rev. Fr. M. D. Hennessy of Chicago, said a solemn requiem high mass. Rev. Fr. P. F. Formaz acting as deacon and Rev. Fr. O'Dwyer acting as sub-deacon.

An excellent sermon was preached by Rev. Fr. Formaz, who spoke of the end of life and showed how the Catholic church alone is able to answer the most important questions of human life: whence we come, where we are going. He gave a beautiful demonstration of how the Catholic church, possessing the authority and power of Christ himself, accompanies the dying man in his great voyage to eternity and gives him all the means to save himself from the shipwreck of a bad life. Continuing he said: "It is very hard to find a Catholic man who received his first education according to Catholic teachings and who has strayed from the true path, who in the last moments of life did not feel the necessity of reconciling himself with God. It is not the result of a fanatical superstition, but the true realization of the fact and the great certainty that only the Catholic church may truly say to him: 'Your sins are forgiven, go forth unanointed with the oil of God, fortified with the sacraments of Jesus Christ.' No matter how bad and guilty a man's life may be in the eyes of God and man, when the words of forgiveness are pronounced the dying man is sure to meet with Christ savior instead of Christ judge."

There were a great many beautiful flowers which were in charge of Mrs. Harry Hall, Mrs. Esther Davis, Miss Bessie Harrison and Miss Rhoda Woodall.

Interment was made in Diamond Grove cemetery and the active bearers were James Harrigan, John Sheppard, Arthur Harmon, Henry Stevenson, Thomas Harrison, John Cain and Harry Hall. The honorary bearers were George Rovse, Patrick Shanahan, John A. Ayers, W. R. Rount, Andrew Bacon, Edward Higgins and I. E. Worfolk.

Among those from a distance to attend the funeral were Rev. Fr. D. Hennessy, cousin of the deceased of Chicago; M. and Lawrence Cleary, brothers; Misses Margaret Cain, Nellie and Elizabeth Cleary, nieces; Edward, James and Frank Cleary, nephews, all of Odell; Thomas Killam, Albany, Mo.; John M. Cleary, Kansas City, Mo.; Thomas Reedy, Michael McDonald, Miss Alice O'Toole, Miss Grace Harmon, John Harmon of Chicago, all nieces and nephews of the deceased. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hieronymus and George Hogan of Winchester, ex-Senator Thomas Meehan of Bluffs, Dr. A. W. Homburger of Bloomington and the following from Wesleyan university of Bloomington and members of Sigma Chi fraternity, of which Jeffrey Cleary is a member: Arnett Chaplin, Stewart Wyatt, Edward Dennis and Elmer Doocy.

PUT SOMETHING IN YOUR TOWN

About the most obnoxious citizen a city can have and one hardest to deal with is one that has grown up with his town, prospered through the prosperity of his city provided, made every dollar he possesses by merchandising or trading in his community, who, when called upon to aid in building up some enterprise for his city, answers, "Well, how much do I get out of it, or 'I don't see why,' 'the city never did anything for me.'"

This cast of citizenship is found in every community but so few in number as to be inconsequential. A man whose town has made him every dollar he possesses, that persists in an argument that his town has never done anything for him and is unwilling to lend moral and financial aid to develop its various interests is indeed a poor citizen.

Such a citizen is really a public dependent, as he is a person who lives off the public, one who takes out of his community everything he can take but puts nothing back. He is willing that his business associates shall put their time and effort and money into his town, make it bigger, better and more prosperous. He is willing to take his share of the increased prosperity, but you ask him to do something for his town, he throws up his hands and says, "Well, how much do I get out of it, 'I don't see why,' 'the town has never done anything for me.'"

CENTENARY LADIES' AID.
The Ladies' Aid society of Centenary M. E. church met Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock in the church parlors. The ladies planned to have their turkey supper Dec. 5 at the same time the Young Ladies' society hold their annual bazaar.

The reception for the pastor and his wife, Rev. and Mrs. G. W. Flagg, and the former pastor, Rev. F. A. McCarty and wife, will be held Thursday evening in the church parlors.

The ladies gave the members of the official board $500 as part of their pledge of $1,000 toward the new addition to the church.

TO DISCUSS SECURITY

OF AIR CRAFT.
Paris, Nov. 4.—The latest models of military and naval air craft form the most conspicuous feature of the aviation salon which opened in Paris today, to continue through the greater part of the week. In connection with the exhibition there is to be a conference of aeronautical experts of all nations to discuss the momentous problem of the security of aeroplanes.

Gilbert Masters of Alexander was a business caller in the city yesterday.

Points for Mothers

The Rights of Others.

How many of you mothers forget that the older children should be considered as much and as carefully guarded as the little ones that are not so very far past babyhood?

Haven't you, times without number, made Tommy or Susie give up to the smaller children just to avoid a cry? Haven't you allowed Master Tom to be interrupted by a small brother or sister when he is trying to get his lessons or busy making something that to him is quite as important as any work that you yourself have planned to do?

Do you think this is fair to the older children? Do you think Master Tom can possibly recite a perfect lesson in history, for instance, when baby brother has been allowed to clamber over his lap demanding to be shown the pictures in the book while he is trying to study?

After awhile Tom's patience gives out and he pushes baby away and tells him to play with something else, but repeated efforts to keep the younger child away proving futile, there is a scene, and the little fellow begins to cry. Nine times out of ten the mother will take baby up in her lap and soothe him while she scolds brother Tom for being a big ruffian and blames him for making baby cry when the poor boy is only trying to do his best school work.

Any little girl of ten or twelve will be perfectly willing to help her mother with the care of the younger children. She will cheerfully lend a hand at dressing, undressing, feeding, bathing and the general care of the smaller children, but mother should not expect her to rush home after school every day and take baby brother for a walk. Neither should she allow the little children to interrupt Susie and her small guests when they are "visiting" with one another.

Little children do not mean to be tyrannical and would not be if mothers would only teach them from the time they are able to understand anything that they must respect the rights of others. Let them understand beyond a shadow of a doubt that they must not expect the older ones to yield to them the moment they express a wish. After awhile, if other babies appear, they in turn will be a greater help to mother and more kindly disposed toward the newcomers.

It requires a vast amount of tact and forethought to adjust the places of the children as they should be. Often the beginning of tyranny is established when the claims of the wee baby take up all the mother's time and the older children are neglected.

In discussing this very subject an eminent writer on the care of children and herself a mother says: "In the ideal home a system of mutual helpfulness reaching around the circle binds the household together in perfect harmony. The little ones have an undoubted claim on the caresses, the care and loving protection of those who are older. This being admitted, it is for the parents to see that the older ones are also immune from interruptions that hinder them from proceeding with the work they are daily obliged to do."

Bits About the Baby.
Nervousness may not be catalogued as a disease, but if it is not it certainly should be.

The mother who is nervous will always have a nervous baby, and unless that baby is treated in the proper manner the nerves will develop most troublesome habits, to say the least.

Take, for instance, the case of a young mother who cannot sleep well. Her child will not sleep well either. He will not grow as much as he should nor in the way he should. His food will not agree with him, in the first place, and unless this trouble is corrected early in his life chronic indigestion will certainly be his inheritance.

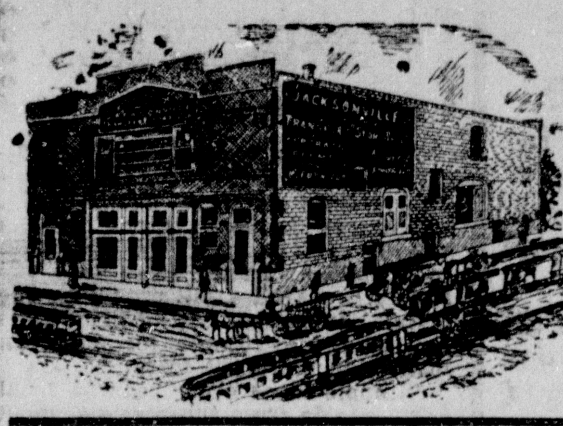

The lack of sleep and poor assimilation of the food he takes will produce all sorts of ailments, undermine the health and arrest the natural development.

If the mother does not nurse the baby—and it is better for the nervous, anaemic mother not to attempt it—then the selection of a proper food is a great problem. Cow's milk modified with barley water is the best substitute for healthy breast milk, but sometimes the little stranger cannot take the cow's milk. Then the best thing to do is to consult the doctor and let him suggest whatever he may think is wise to use instead.

The Child and Pets.

Don't you often feel sorry for the house pet when the house baby begins to notice it? Poor pussy, if pussy it be, is subjected to loving hugs that squeeze together its anatomy in most unnatural fashion or is picked up by its waist—as its mother never thought of doing—and then, after the eager little fingers have mauled and pulled it, rubbing its fur the wrong way or holding it with choking grasp about the throat, pussy is dropped with nerve shocking suddenness as a new toy attracts baby's attention. The Teddy bear has been a boon to many an over-handled kitten, no doubt, but small children always love the living creatures until taught by scratches that would the spirit as well as the tender flesh that while Teddy bear impassively endures all things, kitty possesses a spirit of resentment that makes it dangerous to show too much affection.

YOU CAN CURE AN OLD SORE BUT NOT WITH SALVES

Every old sore can be cured unless it be of a malignant cancerous nature. But no chronic ulcer can be cured by the application of salves or other external treatment. You must get down to the origin and cause before you can produce curative effects. Bad blood is responsible for old sores and the one certain cure therefore is a thorough purification and upbuilding of the circulation. As long as impurities are left in the blood they will be deposited into the ulcer to keep up the inflammation and irritation and nature can make no progress toward healing the place. Nothing is so sure to produce a cure of old sores as S. S. S. This is nature's perfect blood remedy, composed of the most healing and at the same time the most penetrating and blood-purifying properties. It removes every particle of morbid matter from the circulation and assists nature to increase the healthful, nutritious corpuscles of the blood. S. S. S. makes pure blood and pure blood is nature's unfailing cure for old sores. Book on Sores and Ulcers and any medical advice free. THE SWIFT SPECIFIC CO., ATLANTA, GA.

A Clean Man

Outside cleanliness is less than half the battle. A man may scrub himself a dozen times a day, and still be unclean. Good health means cleanliness not only outside, but inside. It means a clean stomach, clean bowels, clean blood, a clean liver, and new, clean, healthy tissues. The man who is clean in this way will look it and act it. He will work with energy and think clean, clear, healthy thoughts.

He will never be troubled with liver, lung, stomach or blood disorders. Dyspepsia and indigestion originate in unclean stomachs. Blood diseases are found where there is unclean blood. Consumption and bronchitis mean unclean lungs.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery

prevents these diseases. It makes a man's insides clean and healthy. It cleans the digestive organs, makes pure, clean blood, and clean, healthy flesh.

HISTORY OF LOCAL ANTI-TUBERCULOSIS SOCIETY.

In 1905 the Morgan County Medical society organized the Anti-Tuberculosis society of Jacksonville, which was made a branch of the state organization, which was then in existence. In the same year the society prepared a bill providing for a state sanatorium and among others the following reasons for such an institution were set forth:

"Illinois loses every year at least 8,000 people from tuberculosis, most of them dying in the active period of life and after having been disabled for several years.

"There is no other disease which entails so much suffering and loss to the state as tuberculosis.

"All this suffering and loss can be prevented by the early recognition of the disease and its rational treatment in a properly managed sanatorium.

"Statistics of existing sanatoria show that in 75 per cent of the patients treated the disease can be arrested; an enormous advance in the treatment of a disease which for long was considered incurable."

This bill failed of passage. Its friends despaired of effecting action through the legislature, and the state organization was for a time discontinued, starting with 23, is now over 100, and it is confidently expected that the present campaign, in which the churches are so generally assisting, will largely increase that number. The society during the past year has disbursed $3,000 or 10,000 books and pamphlets bearing on the nature, care and treatment of tuberculosis, and has held various meetings and arranged for public lectures and for illustrated talks in the schools and colleges. Among those from out of town who have addressed audiences in Jacksonville are such men as Drs. Chas. L. Mix, H. A. Evans, R. H. Babcock of Chicago; Dr. Pettit of Ottawa and Dr. Palmer of Springfield—all men who are eminent in their profession, and whose advanced ideas are becoming widely adopted by the medical profession at large.

In Jacksonville the Woman's club brought Dr. Palmer to tell of the practical work of Springfield in districting and mapping the city; and from its members a committee was appointed to make a survey of Morgan county, reporting and localizing all cases of tuberculosis. The sale of Red Cross stamps, which was inaugurated by the Anti-Tuberculosis society in 1909, has since, at the request of the society, been carried on by the Woman's club. It was chiefly by means of the funds derived from these sales that the society has been able to carry on the free clinic, which during the past summer, through its physicians and its nurse, has reached and benefited so many homes. The stamp sale will again this year be in charge of the club, through its civic committee; and it is hoped that the sale will be unusually large.

The action of the D. A. R. at its meeting on Tuesday last in voting unanimously and heartily, to assist in the work of the society, has been an encouragement to the workers.

Declare War on Colds.

A crusade of education which aims "that common colds may become uncommon within the next generation" has been begun by prominent New York physicians. Here is a list of the "dons" which the doctors say will prevent the annual visitation of the cold:

"Don't sit in a draughty car."
"Don't sleep in hot rooms."
"Don't stuff the fresh air."
"Don't avoid yourself at meal time. Overeating reduces your resistance. To which we would add—when you take a cold get rid of it as quickly as possible. To accomplish that you will find Chamberlain's Cough Remedy most excellent. Sold by all dealers.

HIGH SCHOOL CONFERENCE.

The annual Illinois High School conference will be held at the University of Illinois, November 21, 22 and 23 this year. The present series of conferences, of which this is the all the subjects now included in the high school program with a view to formulating courses or syllabi for each subject or group of a rather definite nature as a basis for standardizing the high school work of the state. The conference is one of the most powerful high school teachers conferences in the whole country. Besides general meetings, lectures and dinners, there are held meetings of those interested in particular subjects, such as biology, household science, administration, classic commerce, manual training, etc. A. C. Norris of Rockford is chairman of the agricultural section and A. W. Nolan, Mr. Carl Colvin of the Bloomington high school, Supt. A. J. Beatty of Geneseo and Prof. C. H. Keltner of Mt. Morris college are among the speakers of this section. There is to be a trip through the university farms and an exhibit of apparatus, laboratory note-books, illustrative material and text books for high school work in agriculture.

Twinges of rheumatism, backache, stiff joints and shooting pains all show your kidneys are not working right. Urinary irregularities, loss of sleep, nervousness, weak back and sore kidneys tell the need of a good reliable kidney medicine. Foley Kidney Pills are tonic, strengthening and restorative. OF COURSE WE WILL.

This is election day and no matter what the result is the sensible citizen will accept it all right and settle down to business and accept the situation although it may not wholly suit him. Somebody has to be dissatisfied and instead of foolishly betting a hat on the result he will go to Hyman's hat store tomorrow morning and buy one. That is the course of wisdom.

GIVES DETAILS ABOUT ELOPEMENT

Mrs. D. H. Hostetter, Formerly Miss Margaret Brown, Wishes Everyone Could Marry as She Did—Calls it "Deliciously Scandalous."

A New York dispatch gives the following story:

Mrs. D. H. Hostetter, who until her romantic elopement and marriage Thursday evening in Kittery, Me., was Miss Margaret Brown and is a sister of Mrs. Edward F. Goltra of St. Louis, told reporters of the elopement.

Mrs. Hostetter and her husband, who is a nephew of a wealthy medicine manufacturer and a classmate of E. F. Goltra Jr., at Princeton university, returned to New York last night and are at the Waldorf-Astoria. A fortnight ago Mr. and Mrs. Goltra announced their intention of visiting this city. Miss Brown insisted upon accompanying them, and upon their arrival here they went to the Waldorf.

Miss Helen Smith, the bride's chum, had long been aware of Hostetter's infatuation for the St. Louis girl, and she immediately wired to Edward F. Goltra Jr., who is a student at Princeton, that Miss Brown was hurried to New York and with him came Hostetter. Then followed a round of dinners and theater parties.

"He Just Made Me Elope."

"Arrangements were being made for me to return home," said Mrs. Hostetter. "When Herbert heard that he just made me elope. Anyway, I think running away is so much nicer than having a stiff old ceremony, don't you?"

"We attended a theater and afterward we excused ourselves from going to supper and told our friends that we wanted to arrange something. The arrangement was our wedding, but they didn't know that."

"Then came the most exciting race to get married. Wasn't it deliciously scandalous, running off in the middle of the night like that? I was too scared for anything, but Herbert told me not to be afraid. So after motor-ing through six states we reached Maine and were married at Kittery."

"We looked up the laws before we left and found that Maine was the only state that didn't require a five days' residence. So you see our crime was premeditated after all."

"I met my husband's parents and they were delightful, and I am just so happy I don't know what to do. I wish everybody could elope and have the fun I did."

Young Hostetter is the son of the late Theodore Hostetter, a wealthy Pittsburger, while the bride enjoys the income from one-fifth of the estate of her father, the late Judge William Brown.

Hostetter would have finished at Princeton in another year, but since his marriage he has decided not to return.

For the Children

Thanksgiving Turkey as Children Like Him Best.

Always on Thanksgiving day we children have such fun at play. And after dinner's over, you know, we usually a-visiting go.

Our dinner, too, is fine and good. And all the things I never could begin to name 'em though I'd try. But one thing's sure—there's pumpkin pie!

And turkey baked, and dressing, too. I always love it so, don't you? And cranberry sauce so red and thick, and ice cream frozen in a brick.

And sweet potatoes baked and brown. And nuts and fruit and cider, too—We're really sorry when we're through!

Our mamma says that on that day each person, young and old, should pray. And thank God for his mercy dear. That's been bestowed throughout the year.

She says that's what Thanksgiving's for—The summing up of all the year, Remembering all we owe the Lord And thanking him by deed and word.

Thanksgiving Feast—A Game.

Cards are distributed, upon each of which is written a list of objects suggestive of a feast, opposite to which the players write their guesses of what dishes are described—for instance:

1. Soup—Imitation reptile.
2. Fish—Collect on delivery.
3. Roasts—The country of the crescent and Adam's wife, served with a sauce of what undid her.
4. Vegetables—Two kinds of toes never found on man or beast; a mild term for stealing; what your heart does.

5. Puddings—What we say to a nuisance and exactly perpendicular.
6. Pies—An affected gift and related to a well.

7. Fruit—A kind of shot.
The answers are:
1. Soup—Mock turtle.
2. Fish—C O D.
3. Roasts—Turkey and sparerib with apple sauce.
4. Vegetables—Potatoes and tomatoes, cabbage, beets.
5. Puddings—Sago and plum(b).
6. Pies—Mince and pumpkin.
7. Fruit—Grape.

Thanksgiving Sentiments.

First—Thanksgiving and joy cause singing, leaping, dancing. It is a lively joy that fills the bosoms of those who have it and makes them happy.

Second—Thanksgiving dwells in the heart, not on the tongue or in the stomach.

Third—Thankfulness is not thanksgiving.

Fourth—I borrow my thanksgiving from my heart, not from my dinner.

Fifth—Do not wait for a special day in which to be thankful. He who waits for Thanksgiving day to be thankful will not be thankful when it comes.

Sixth—Plato said, "I thank God I was born a man, not a beast; a Grecian, not a barbarian," but I thank God that I was born an American instead of a Hindu.

Seventh—Thanksgiving makes a crust sweet—the want of it a turkey bitter.

Eighth—The way to get more favors is to be thankful for those we have.

Ninth—Thankfulness will not come unless called.—Philadelphia Ledger.

Millions of Coins.

During last August 25,101,000 new coins were made in the mints of this country. Their value was $1,317,000, a good deal of money even for the government. Over half a million of this was in half eagles, or five dollar gold pieces. But, of course, when it came to numbers the cents lead, as more than 22,000,000 of them were turned out. More than 2,000,000 silver coins were minted also.

Tossing Chestnuts.

A bowl shaped basket, about nine inches in diameter, is placed at one end of the room. Each child receives ten chestnuts and, standing eight feet from the basket, tries to throw them, one by one, into it. The score is kept, and the child who has succeeded in tossing the greatest number of chestnuts into the basket wins.

Thanksgiving Peanut Hunt.

Get about twelve packages of peanuts of different sizes. They should be hidden in vases, corners and nooks. Each child is provided with a little canvas bag and is told of the hidden peanuts. These are hunted for, and when all the children have returned with their treasure it is eaten.

Charade.

Between your eyes my first one lies: Merry with glee my second you'll be. Fragrant and sweet, behold me complete. Answer—Nose, gay, nosogay.

THANKSGIVING SERVICES.

Ministers Appoint Committee to Arrange for Exercises.

At the regular meeting of the Ministerial Association held Monday morning at 1 o'clock at the Y. M. C. A., over which gathering Rev. J. W. Miller presided, a committee consisting of Rev. W. L. Dorgan, Rev. H. W. French and Rev. J. W. Miller was appointed to arrange for the special exercises to take place Thanksgiving day.

A pleasing part of the program was the paper read by Dr. A. B. Morey on "The Waste in Preaching." It was excellent in content and greatly appreciated by the members.

It was also planned by the association to have Rev. Mr. Powell of Indiana here the early part of December in the interest of the Holy Grail. It is expected to form a federation of this society among all the churches of the city, with the Y. M. C. A. as the central society. The committee appointed to look after this department is composed of Rev. W. E. Spooner, Rev. G. W. Flagg and H. A. Brewer.

Mr. Hiram Steele, 628 N. 6th St., Terre Haute, Ind., writes: "I came down with a severe case of kidney trouble. I had to get up too often at night, there was pain and much sediment, puffs under my eyes, back pained terribly, and I was dizzy. Foley Kidney Pills cured me quickly, and I feel 100 per cent better. City Drug Store, J. A. Obermeyer."

KEEP YOUR HEAD UNCOVERED.

The Constant Wearing of a Hat Propagates Dandruff Germs.

There are many men who wear their hats practically all the time when awake, and are blessed with a heavy shock of hair; yet if the scalps of these same men become infested with dandruff germs, the parasites would multiply all the quicker for lack of air. Baldness would ensue as the final result. New's Herpicide kills these germs and stimulates unyielding hair to abundant growth. Herpicide is a pleasant hair dressing as well as a dandruff cure and contains not an atom of injurious substance. Sold by leading druggists. Send in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

Growing Children Need Good Bowels

Give a Mild Laxative Occasionally to Insure Regular Bowel Action.

As a child grows older it requires more and more personal attention from the mother, and as the functions of the bowels are of the utmost importance to health great attention should be paid to them.

Diet is of great importance, and the mother should watch the effect of certain foods. A food will constipate one and not another, and so we have a healthy food like eggs causing biliousness to thousands, and a wholesome fruit like bananas constipating many. It is also to be considered that the child is growing, and great changes are taking place in the young man or young woman. The system has not yet settled itself to its later routine.

A very valuable remedy at this stage, and one which every growing boy and girl should be given often or occasionally according to the individual circumstances, is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. This is a laxative and tonic combined, so mild that it is given to little babies, and yet equally effective in the most robust constitution. At the first sign of a tendency to constipation give a small dose of Syrup Pepsin at night on retiring, and prompt action will follow in the morning. It not only acts on the stomach and bowels but its tonic properties build up and strengthen the system generally, which is an opinion shared by the mother of Alfred Edison Spence, Reeds Springs, Mo., and Mr. George A. Fisher, 631 Parker avenue, Indianapolis, Ind., will be refunded.

ALFRED EDISON SPENCE

and thousands of others. Its use will teach you to avoid cathartics, salts and pills as they are too harsh for the majority and their effect is only temporary. Syrup Pepsin brings permanent results, and it can be conveniently obtained of any nearby druggist at fifty cents and one dollar a bottle.

If no member of your family has ever used Syrup Pepsin and you would like to make a personal trial of it before buying it in the regular way of a druggist, send your address—a postal will do—to Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 413 Washington St., Monticello, Ill., and a free sample bottle will be mailed you. Results are always guaranteed or money

GENERAL MARKET NEWS

SUPPLY INCREASE LOWERS WHEAT

Certainty of Increase in Visible Supply Carries Wheat to 1c Decline.

(By Associated Press.)
Chicago, Nov. 4.—Certainty of a huge increase in the visible supply carried the wheat today to a lower level, the close was nervous at a net decline of 3/4c to 3/8c. Latest trading left corn 3/4c to 1/2c down; oats off 1/4c to 1/8c and provisions varying from 12c lower to an advance of 10c.

Unrest regarding the Turkish situation gave wheat at first an appearance of strength and there was further bullish aid in reports of untimely wet weather in Argentina.
Gradually, however, the big accumulations at primary markets since Friday began to tell against prices, especially as the outlook was poor for exports and equally unpromising as far as domestic mills were concerned.
December ranged from 88c to 90c
at 90c, with the close 3/8c net lower at 89c.

Predictions that the government
crop estimate would be raised 222, 000,000 bushels above the forecast issued October 1, had a depressing effect on corn. Splendid weather for drying the new crop acted also against the bulls. December fluctuated between 50c 5/8c and 50c, closing easy at 50c 5/8c, a net loss of 3/4c.

Oats held relatively steady because of covering by prominent shorts who went to the idea that bearish sentiment had grown too unanimous.
High and low for December was 31c and 31c, with the close 1/2c net lower at 31c.

Owing to corn weakness, provisions broke late in the session after having advanced early owing to a decrease in stocks here and because of a light run of hogs. In the end pork and ribs averaged about the same as Friday's close, but lard showed a decline of 1/2c to 10c.

ANOTHER SCHOOL
VISITED

Union School, Northwest of the City,
the Scene of Busy Activity.

Monday morning the writer set sail for the northwest part of the county, after a pleasant ride of a number of miles, drew up at Union school house, where he was made entirely welcome by the accomplished teacher, Miss Lennie E. Reese.

This school house is one whose location and surroundings are deserving of great praise as the space is ample and there is a goodly supply of native forest trees, grand in size and affording ample shade without darkening the schoolroom. It is on a hill and commands a fine location and in this respect it is well worthy of imitation.

The main thing that needs criticism is the fence, which is in an advanced stage of decay and while it is not needed to keep in the pupils
it is a matter of ornament and use to the adjacent farm and would well be replaced with a new one.
The coal shed is new and in good shape and all has an air of prosperity.

The school building is in good condition, though it is heated with the old fashioned oak stove and some time possibly the directors will see fit to supply the modern furnace heater and ventilator which would be a help though not so much needed as the stove is in good repair and warms the room thoroughly.

The only thing which seemed a little scant was the supply and condition of the blackboard or wall.
There were books in good supply, charts, maps, a globe, a cabinet organ and the teacher said they had a number of pictures ordered, and they included the portraits of Washington, Lincoln, five eminent poets and cannot fall to be of great advantage. It is pleasant to see a school board so progressive as this and when those pictures are hung they will certainly be a great addition to the outfit.

The teacher didn't say from what source the money for the pictures was to come but whatever it may be all credit should be given.

The pupils of the school seemed to be bright and attractive and they have had lessons in manners as well.
It was a small thing, to be sure, but when the visitor had finished talking one of the larger boys ran out and untied the horse and put the halter in the buggy. It wasn't a great thing but showed the good raising of the boy.

In one thing the pupils excelled and that was in answering some historical questions regarding Napoleon Bonaparte and the Battle of Waterloo. They also asked a number of questions after the visitor had finished talking and while the caller didn't get as many as he would have liked he has no cause for complaint.

SHIP YARDS ON

EIGHT-HOUR BASIS

Quincy, Mass., Nov. 4.—Four thousand employees of the Fore River Shipbuilding company are benefitted by the eight-hour schedule which was put into effect today.
The new schedule carries nine hours pay for eight hours work. The order was brought about by the recent act of congress compelling government work to be done "on eight hour ship yards." The Fore River company has under construction the battleship Nevada and two submarines.

"TELLS THE WHOLE STORY."

To say that Foley's Honey and Tar Compound is best for children and grown persons and contains no opiates tells only part of the tale. The whole story is that it is the best medicine for coughs, colds, croup, bronchitis and other affections of the throat, chest and lungs. Stops coughs, soothes the throat and has a soothing effect. Remember the name,
Foley's Honey and Tar Compound,
accept no substitutes. City Drug

YATES ADDRESSED
GREAT AUDIENCE

FORMER GOVERNOR DISCUSSED
POLITICAL ISSUES FAIRLY.

Was Cordially Received by Friends Who Thronged Armory Hall to Hear Speech in Behalf of the Republican Party—Related Interesting Facts of Political History and Pointed to Reasons for the Party's Success.

It may be, and of course, the Bible is right, that a prophet is not without honor save in his own country and in his own house, but certainly the reception accorded Ex-Governor Yates last evening showed that he has a warm place in the hearts of the people among whom he was born and spent the greater part of his life. He didn't reach the city until half past seven but a good number escorted him from the hotel to Armory hall and the Jeffries band which preceded played splendidly.
All joined heartily in the spirit of the occasion.

Before going up stairs Governor
Yates said to the band that he well remembered them and the men who made up the band at the state convention at Peoria when the Chicago band tried to drown out the Jacksonville boys and couldn't do it; and he never forgot it but would always remember it with pleasure and gratitude.

The hall was filled and many stood up and others went away for lack of accommodations and all listened with profound attention to a brilliant address. Chairman Hildreth presided and introduced J.
H. Rayhill, Jr., as chairman of the evening. He took the chair and with a few complimentary remarks introduced one of the city's rising young men, H. E. Green of the law office of Worthington & Reeve. The young gentleman has a fine voice and for a few moments he spoke most eloquently on the issues of the day showing the fallacy of the claims made by the opponents of the Republican party.

Then came the event of the evening when Ex-Governor Yates was introduced by the chair. On arising the applause that greeted him was long and hearty and he was visible affected by it. Only a brief outline of his remarks is attempted.

Appreciated Cordially.

"I thank you sincerely for this fine reception and as I look into your faces I see that nearly all of you have at one time or another done me favors and while I have not been able to do for you all I would like I have done my best. You stood by me when I was beaten by 25-000 for congressman at large and when later I was chosen to what I regard as the office next in importance to president in our land I am thankful to the chairman of the county central committee for his hard work and to all who have helped our party in the struggle. I do not come before you as a candidate for another reelection at the primaries more votes than I did but I am for the whole ticket from Taft down to coroner. (Applause.) I indorse Mr. Oglesby, Mr. Russell, Mr.
Doyle and was one of the first to appoint them to office. When a man goes into a convention he is bound in honor to accept its dictates and be loyal.

Deneen and Hadley Saved Party.

"I did criticize Governor Deneen's administration prior to the present and I have nothing to retract but his mistakes have been rectified and his last administration has been all right. At the national convention at Chicago Chas. S. Deneen and Gov.
Hadley of Missouri saved the Republican party by refusing to walk out. (Applause). No matter how good a Democrat goes to congress his hands are at once tied by the caucus managed by southern Democrats and there he is. They abused Thos. Reed and Jos. Cannon for being bosses but they were mild beside the tyrannical Democratic caucus.

Bryan at Baltimore.

"I shall never forget the scenes
at the Baltimore convention; how they abused Bryan; how he came out ahead in the nomination of Wilson. The one hope of the Democratic party is to lead enough men astray from the Republican fold to let their ticket in but the Republican party and its doctrines are good enough for me. (Applause). I believe in the constitution though it is getting almost unpopular to defend it these days. It was good enough for the patriots who framed it and it is good enough for me and we are somewhat politically in their condition when Franklin said they would stand together or hang separately.

"I do not believe in throwing over our fine prosperity as was done in 1893 to '97. How different is the present condition from that of 1896.
Do we want to return to that?

Wages Fast and Present.

"Gentlemen, do you love your wives and children? It is they for whom you work and for them it is for you to vote to continue the present good times we are having. It was in 1896 that a good barber got $2.00 a day and now the same gets $4. mechanics get all the way from $3.50 to $6.00 and $7.00. Not long ago I was in Germany where, according to our free traders there should be no trusts and I was talking with a member of a syndicate which owns mines, boats and what not and employs 350,000 men and they average fifty cents a day. Do we want our workmen to compete with these?

"In 1872 the Democrats said let us be liberal and old friends tried hard to get my father to support Greeley; they elected a majority to congress and you know the result.
In 1892 they said let us have a change; the voters gave it to them and you know the rest.

Not the Only Righteous One.
To the man who is thinking of supporting Roosevelt and Johnson because they alone are righteous, let us say something.

Once upon a time the Seventh Illinois Volunteer Infantry was arriving home from the Spanish-American war. It was an Irish regiment commanded by Colonel Dan Moriarty and prayed for by Father Ed. Kelly and as they marched in triumph from the railroad depot to the Armory they passed the cottage home of Patrick Muicahey,
a private in that triumphal, homeward march. His wife Nora held the baby high in her arms as Mu-cahey pranced past. And she said
"Look at your father, a cushie, luke at you father; shure, he's the only mann in the intire regiment that is not out of step."

The idea, that only one man in all the land is righteous. Every century or so that notion prevails. It is a pessimistic fancy, it is pure pessimism.

"Once upon a time there was a man named Jonah. He thought he was the only righteous man in the land. And he became a pessimist.
And sat down under a Juniper tree,
and abused and belittled everybody else. He called up to Jehovah, 'I thy altars are overturned; I, even I only, am left, and they seek my life, to take it.' Do you remember what the Lord said to Jonah: 'Oh get up, get up and go on, there are yet seven thousand that have not bowed the knee to Baol.'

"To the man who is planning to vote for Roosevelt because he thinks he is like Lincoln, and remains like Lincoln—although the Republican leaders as a whole are no longer like him, let him remember some things.

Lincoln an Organized.

Mr. Roosevelt is not like Lincoln.
I heard him speak this spring at Dearborn, Ohio. This I heard myself. It was about all that he said:
"Now my friends, I do not say that I will make no mistakes, if I am again elected president, but this I do say (and I say it with my might), whatever mistakes I do make will be my own, and not on the advice of any other man, whatever."

Now was that like Lincoln?
Where (in that statement, in that attitude) is the cool calculating reason that is to be the sure defense of the American republic. And to the man who is planning to vote for Roosevelt because he is opposed to bossism and opposed by bosses, let me say a thing or two:
We have never had a more conservative boss, a more tyrannical dictator, than T. R. I once belonged to his machine and I know. I say this without shame because to belong to an organization in politics is not shameful.

"To get up an organization is not disgrace. I have high authority on this subject. Here is a letter written by Abraham Lincoln to my father.
He says:

"Mr. Johnson is entirely reliable. He is a new comer; but he can devote more time to getting up an organization than anyone I know, who knows as well as he, how to do it.

"By the way this letter was written September 30, 1857, about an election to occur November 5, 1857.
In the second and last paragraph
Mr. Lincoln says:

"And now let me say, I wish you could make up your mind to come to the legislature from Morgan next time—you can be elected, and I doubt some-whether any other friend can.
It will be something of a sacrifice to you; but can you not make it?"

"Yours as ever,
A. Lincoln.

"To condemn all organization, as some men blindly do, is to condemn Lincoln. Here he was 14 months in advance, organizing for getting up an organization, and asking his friends to run for the legislature.

"I believe many men are going to vote for Roosevelt because they believe he is opposed to organization, because they are opposed to organization. Such men are on the wrong track. To vote for Roosevelt is not to condemn organization. He has always accepted machine help:
Platt, Penrose, Lorimer, Cullom, Clapp, Stubbs of Kansas, Johnson of California. He accepted the aid of my organization.

Reviews Political History.

In May, 1901, while he was vice-president, I gave out an interview
favoring him for president in 1904.
The Chicago newspapers published it with tall headlines clear across front page. He instantly rushed a telegram to me: "Meet me for breakfast Auditorium Annex Friday morning. T. Roosevelt." We met; we talked; he accepted my support. I said, who do you know in Illinois
he said a club in Chicago, the Hamilton club. I said you must go to Springfield in August when our cavalry regiment is in camp; we will invite every Republican county chairman and secretary, every legislative and congressional committee, every congressman and legislator, and we'll have a great and good day. And he said: "I will come." (Emphatically.)

And he came and charmed everybody. He did not refuse the aid of our state organization. He accepted it, as he has accepted a score of honors from the Republican party.
And then there was laid his success in Illinois in 1904. In that year Republicans were fiercely divided, almost permanently but owing to the start we gave him back there in 1901, nobody could stop him.
And he controlled the national convention in 1901 by his organization—a machine. I know for I was part of it, I was there, a delegate. I was one of those who followed his blind command and threw Bob La-Pollette out.

Talk about steam rollers!
Talk about bossism!

Talk about "Thou shalt not steal"
—except for me.

Just remember the national conventions of 1904 and 1908.

Has Two Natures.

If you would like to know what I think of Theodore Roosevelt, what one man thinks of him now who admired him beyond words in 1898 and 1900 and 1901 and 1902, I would like to tell you:

"I think there are two Roosevelts;
one strong patriotic statesmanlike soul striving to benefit the American people, the other a cunning, contriving politician planning to place himself in power.

"This politician supplanted and drove out the statesman between 1902 and 1912. The change had begun as early as 1903. In June, 1903, he was my guest, June 4. In July, 1903, I visited him for one day at Oyster Bay. The Old Teddy was scarcely visible, the unselfish rough rider. A calculated man had put in an appearance. On that June day, 1903, when he came to Springfield he said to me: "Why do I go to the Lincoln monument, I haven't a minute to spare." I was shocked and replied: "Why do you go to the Lincoln monument; isn't that a strange question to ask a governor of Illinois about our most sacred place?"

"I will never, never forget his reply:

"I know, Yates, I know; but there will be nobody there, the crowd will all be down at your arsenal or armory."

I replied: "Certainly, Mr. President, but when you were here when you were vice-president, you were glad to go to the Lincoln monument and we all thought you would want to go again. We've got to Mr. President."

And so we went and he said at the monument: "I told you so,
there aren't 75 people here."

It was a very different Roosevelt that came to us in 1901, and as I said, charmed us all. I would have wagered my life in 1901 that Theodore Roosevelt would never fight or try to destroy the Republican party.
Roosevelt Has Had Many Honors.

From that party he accepted in 1884 election to the New York legislature, in 1886 the Republican nomination for mayor of New York city,
in 1898 the Republican nomination for governor, in 1900 the Republican nomination for vice-president and finally the Republican party gave him
all it had to give, when in 1904 it gave him that unsurpassable distinction, the American presidency.

In return for all these honors and distinctions he now asks you Republicans to vote for him, knowing he cannot be elected, and that by voting for him you are doing nothing in the world but helping to elect Wilson and Marshall.

I do not criticize you who voted for Roosevelt in the Republican primary on the 9th day of April last.
You then voted for T. Roosevelt, Republican. It is different now, because now you are asked to quit the Republican party. Remember this when men tell you that two hundred and twenty thousand men voted for Roosevelt in Illinois April 9. Those 220,000 did not vote for a third party. I predict that out of those 220,000, not 1 in 4, no not 50,000,
will vote for Theodore Roosevelt, candidate of the third party, or for Johnson for vice-president, or for Frank Funk for governor.

President Taft will carry Illinois and so will Governor Deneen by an old time Republican majority, 50,000 to 100,000.

"It will be the proudest moment
of my life if at the polls tomorrow Taft is elected and Deneen wins by 49,000 for it will show that the men who voted for me at the primaries have stood by the ticket." (Applause.)

At the close a great many pressed forward to shake hands with the eloquent speaker.

Mrs. Peter Holan, 11501 Buckeye
Road, S. E., Cleveland, O., had a little son with a bad case of whooping cough. She says: "He coughed until he was blue in the face. I gave him
Foley's Honey and Tar Compound,
and the first few doses had a remarkable and almost immediate effect. A few more doses cured him. Yes indeed I can recommend Foley's Honey and Tar Compound." In the yellow package. City Drug Store, J. A.

SOCIAL EVENTS.

Misses Helen Miller and Nell Self delightfully entertained thirty of their friends at a halloween party Saturday evening at the home of Miss Self. The house was elaborately decorated in corn stalks, autumn leaves and Jack 'o lanterns.

The guests came masked and were met at the door by Miss Miller, dressed as a ghost, who gave them the cold hand. Music, various games, together with fortune telling with Miss Ethel Reeve as fortune teller, furnished amusement for the evening.

Refreshments in keeping with the occasion were served and at a late hour the guests departed voting it a merry evening and one long to be remembered.

Miss Ethel Mann entertained the members of the Sunshine Sewing club at her home on Edgmon street, Monday evening. The time was spent in a delightful social manner, and the fortune telling booth, in charge of Miss Robertine Angelo, was a favorite place for the guests. Light refreshments were served.

Members of Mrs. Gunn's class in Westminster Sunday school were entertained Monday night at the home of the class president, Miss Edna Thompson on South Diamond street. There were thirteen present and it did not seem to be an unlucky number for the time was passed very happily. In a conundrum game Miss Gladys Shoemaker won the first prize with Miss Forsythe taking second honors. The booby prize went to Mrs. Gunn. Excellent refreshments were served and altogether the evening was one of special pleasure.

A masquerade party was given Monday evening by Miss Altha Meggison at the home of her parents Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Meggison, one mile east of Woodson. The decorations were in halloween colors. In the dining room were autumn leaves and fruit and the lawn was made attractive by the use of Jack 'o lanterns. All the guests came masked and in costumes and Miss May Smith received the first prize for the best make up. She had a close second in Albert Fitzsimmons who made fun for the crowd by his comedian stunts. When the time came for supper the ladies pinned sheets about their clothing and the boys were asked to bid on the unknown partner. The girls brought from 25c to $1.50 and this was one of the merry parts of the evening's program. Various games were played and a straw vote was taken which resulted in 21 for Roosevelt, 21 for Wilson and 1 for Taft. It was declared that a large number of the guests were not old enough to vote, so their vote was challenged. Among the guests from away were Ray Henry who is visiting home folks from Larimore, N. D., and Cecil Meggison, who is attending school at Eureka college.

Miss Myrtle Sargent and Miss Maude Preston gave a linen shower at the home of the former, 643 S. West street, Monday evening, in honor of Miss Agnes Sargent, who is soon to be married to Mr. W. T. Jackson of Chicago.

The rooms were very tastefully decorated for the occasion. In the parlor yellow and green, class colors of the bride-to-be, were used to pretty effect and in the dining room green and white, consisting of ferns and giant chrysanthemums.

The evening was pleasantly spent with games and music, the prizes being won by Miss Maude Preston and Miss Bertha Austin. Delightful refreshments were served and in the cutting of the bride's cake, which occasioned no little amusement, the darning needle was won by Miss Lora Sargent, the thimble by Miss Grace Whitney, the dime by the bride-to-be and the ring by Miss Edythe Sargent. Miss Sargent received many nice pieces of linen and in every way the evening was happily spent.

A party was given at the home of Frank E. Beggs, southwest of the city, Monday night, in honor of Miss Margaret Carleton of Cleveland, Miss Ina Harber of Bloomington and Miss Mary Harwell of Nashville, Tenn. The guests turned themselves into real little folks and played all sorts of childish games, which afforded no little merriment. Music was given during the evening by Mrs. Fred Randall's orchestra and a splendid supper was served by the Peacock Inn. Other guests from out of the city included John Beggs and Edna Beggs of Ashland.

RESERVOIR BREAKS.

Nashville, Tenn., Nov. 4.—A portion of the eastern basin of the reservoir from which Nashville gets its water supply gave way early this morning letting a torrent of water lose down the hill on which the basin is located. Several houses were washed away but there was no loss of life.

Maddened by Census Questions.
Serious results followed the taking of the first census in Japan years ago. Observing with approval the work of western countries, the authorities thought it advisable to take statistics of population and for that purpose sent out to all householders notices enjoining them to furnish them with full particulars of their families, age, sex, etc. This step was misconstrued in one of the villages, where suspicion was expressed that Japan was about to be sold or at least some of the people were to be sold to foreigners who were desirous of ascertaining the number of males, etc., before closing the bargain in order to find out what price to pay according to the quantity of blood that would be forthcoming. It was a Japanese belief the foreigners squeezed the blood from all who came into their power. Excited and enraged mobs soon collected and attacked the village offices, and it was some time before order could be restored.—Argonaut.

Mexico's Goat.

To get your goat in Mexico has no meaning other than to say unlawful hands on the quadruped. The goat is to Mexico what the sheep is to Australia and beef to old England, and more, because it is both meat and drink. The republic of bullfights and bandits could not get along without the humble little animal we have always associated with Harlem back yards and a diet of tin cans. Its flesh sells at 14 cents a pound, Mexican money, and a steaming stew of tender young kid is not to be despised by a hungry man. Every Mexican hotel serves goat meat in some form or other. A fat goat sells for $3 on the hoof, and a lean one brings only $1.50. The tallow sells at 12 cents a pound and is commonly used in place of lard. The skins are worth $1.50 each, and the milk retails at 12 1/2 cents a quart.—New York Press.

Slaughter as They Retreat.

Athens, Nov. 4.—A wireless message from a foreign warship at Salonika says that the Turkish army which was defeated at Yenidje, has reached that city in complete disorder. Before their flight from Statista, to the southwest of Kosal, the Turks pillaged a monastery. They cut a monk to pieces, impaled a child and massacred many of the inhabitants of the town. The Greeks pursued and killed many of them.

Berlin, Nov. 4.—The Turkish ambassador presented to the foreign office this afternoon a communication from his government asking the powers good offices to bring about an armistice. Germany immediately put itself into communication with the other five powers with a view to carrying out the request.

"BUCKS" HOT BLAST

☐The heaters that produce more heat for less money than any stoves in the world.

☐There is no ordinary heater in the country that will successfully burn every fuel.

☐It takes more than ordinary stove construction to burn soft coal, including slack.

☐Soft coal is about one-half gas, and the ordinary stove that is supposed to burn successfully soft coal taking COLD AIR into its fire pot does not burn the gas. It goes up the chimney as waste fuel.

☐Experiment has proven, however, that HEATED AIR taken into its fire pot forms perfect combustion, burns this gas, cokes coal and thereby consumes all the heat producing material in soft coal, burning it into heat units

☐"Bucks" Hot Blast Heater has a specially constructed fire pot that successfully burns all fuels, including slack

☐The air is drawn into the fire pot through a heated duct which completely encircles it; this heated air is fed to the top of fuel surface, thereby consuming all gases

☐Combustion takes place in a complete circle against the fire pot, highly heating the ENTIRE RADIATING SURFACE.

☐With "Buck" Hot Blast Heater you derive Base Burner results.

☐A highly heated base, surface that is ALL radiating surface and no waste fuel.

Our gift section will be ready this week.
